

Remote Control by USB series products

User can easily use a multi-port USB server to connect Decision USB series products to accomplish remote control by LAN or wireless. Because Decision USB product doesn't need to be installed any driver, it can be easily accomplished remote control by connecting any Decision USB product to USB Server and user doesn't even modify the program at all. Under Windows, user can directly see the product in the device manager and control it by programs just like connecting in original host PC.

We use Corega CG-NUH04 4 port USB Server to perform the test.
